

AUTHOR CONTRIBUTION/CREDIT STATEMENT

Manuscript Title (TR)
Manuscript Title (EN)

An author is someone who contributed to the work in accordance with the criteria listed below. Those who meet these criteria should be listed as authors, taking into consideration their contribution to the study.

1. Contributing substantially to the study in conceptualization, visualization, data collection/processing, data analysis, writing or interpreting.
2. Providing critical editing, supervision or administration during the pre- or post-publication stages of the manuscript.
3. Deciding that the manuscript is ready to be published.
4. Taking total responsibility for the study, accepting that it was conducted within scientific and ethical standards.

The corresponding author should, if necessary, provide data and further information following publication.

Individuals who contribute but do not meet the criteria for authorship should be referred to in the “acknowledgements” section.

The criteria included in this form are based on those of [Council of Science Editors (CSE)] and [International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (ICMJE)] (www.cse.org, www.icmje.org)
